

I am concerned that you are wanting to weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections. Citizens of Indiana are pleased with what our legislators have done, or about half of the households would not have signed to join the list. We are very seldom bothered by intrusive phone calls into our busy lives. We receive an average of less than 1 phone call instead of the 14 or so we used to receive per week. As a single mother with teen-age daughters, I do not worry now about strangers calling and bothering my daughters while I am not home. I would not want anything less than what Indiana has for their telephone privacy law. Please do not do as often has been done and diminished what good has already been accomplished.
